A searchable online guide to this extensive collection is available in Mirlyn.

The BMP Collection is comprised of over 2000 reels of microfilm prepared in England and Wales for the American Council of Learned Societies.

Includes reproductions of manuscripts and rare printed materials from medieval times to the 18th century found in libraries in England and Wales such as the:

- Cambridge University Library
- Public Record Office (including the Colonial Office)
- Lincoln Cathedral
- Oxford University (Bodleian Library)
- National Library of Wales

Complete sets of this collection are held only by the University of Michigan Library and the Library of Congress.
