This series contains collections of declassified documents from the 1940s-1960s that include:

State Department internal documentation

Communication between the Department and diplomatic posts, other federal agencies, Congress, private individuals, and organizations

This information is valuable for scholars of history, political science, and international relations